

LISTEN: Supreme Court Travel Action Explained

posted by Holly Morgan - 8 days ago

comment share

#ThisWeekinHistory

Week of June 19th

Recent Articles

Recommended by Outbrain

The Trump Travel Ban against travelers and refugees from six majority-Muslim nations was reinstated today by the U.S. Supreme Court, with certain key exceptions. Specifically, the court said that the ban "may not be enforced against foreign nationals who have a credible claim of a bona fide relationship with a person or lower courts across the country that will be asked to determine what "bona fide" relationship really means.

National legal analyst, James Goodnow, based in Phoenix, breaks it down for The Chris Merrill Show.

Got a comment about the show? Call 602.374.6064

First and foremost, Chris is an entertainer. Chris has been a successful host at talk and music stations in Kansas City, Colorado, California and Michigan. He combines a passion to entertain with his knowledge of current events to create a high energy program that results in a unique show and a perspective you don't hear on most traditional radio talk shows.

Because his lifestyle mirrors that of our target audience, he knows what our listeners are interested in. Chris studied Theater at Western Michigan University and Political Science at Fort Hayes State University. He has a wife and three children; one in High School, and two in Junior High. When not on the radio, he spends time with his family and may be found playing softball and making fantastic plays in the field.

Social

Comments

View Comments

READ NEXT

Recommended by Outbrain